"I was placed in an administrative training position at a local hospital. I gained computer skills and became familiar with office procedures. After a year of on-the-job training, I received a job offer."

- SCSEP Participant

Let Goodwill® help you get back into the workforce!

To see if the program is a good fit for you, contact:

Senior Community Service Employment Program

"Goodwill® listened when we said we still wanted to work. They can help you, too."

"Yes, I want to refresh my job skills with paid training."

If you are 55 years of age or older, and are unemployed or meet income guidelines, you may be eligible for the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP)*. Goodwill® can help by enhancing your work skills.

Contact Goodwill Today!

Let Goodwill link you with a local nonprofit or other community service agency where you'll:

- Get paid to learn new skills through on-thejob training.
- Learn current job searching techniques and develop effective interview skills.
- Build work experience and confidence to advance to regular employment.

* Goodwill will help you determine the income criteria. Please note that priority is given to individuals over 65, and to veterans and their spouses.

When you contact Goodwill about training, here's what you can expect:

- An initial assessment to determine if you meet program criteria.
- An evaluation of your skills and interests.
- Assignment to a local nonprofit or government agency.
- Paid, on-the-job training; typically 20 hours per week.
- Job-seeking and support services to help you find a permanent job.

Possible Training Sites

Past participants have been placed in a wide variety of community positions, including:

- Social service nonprofits
- Schools and libraries
- Daycare and senior centers
- Government agencies
- Health care centers